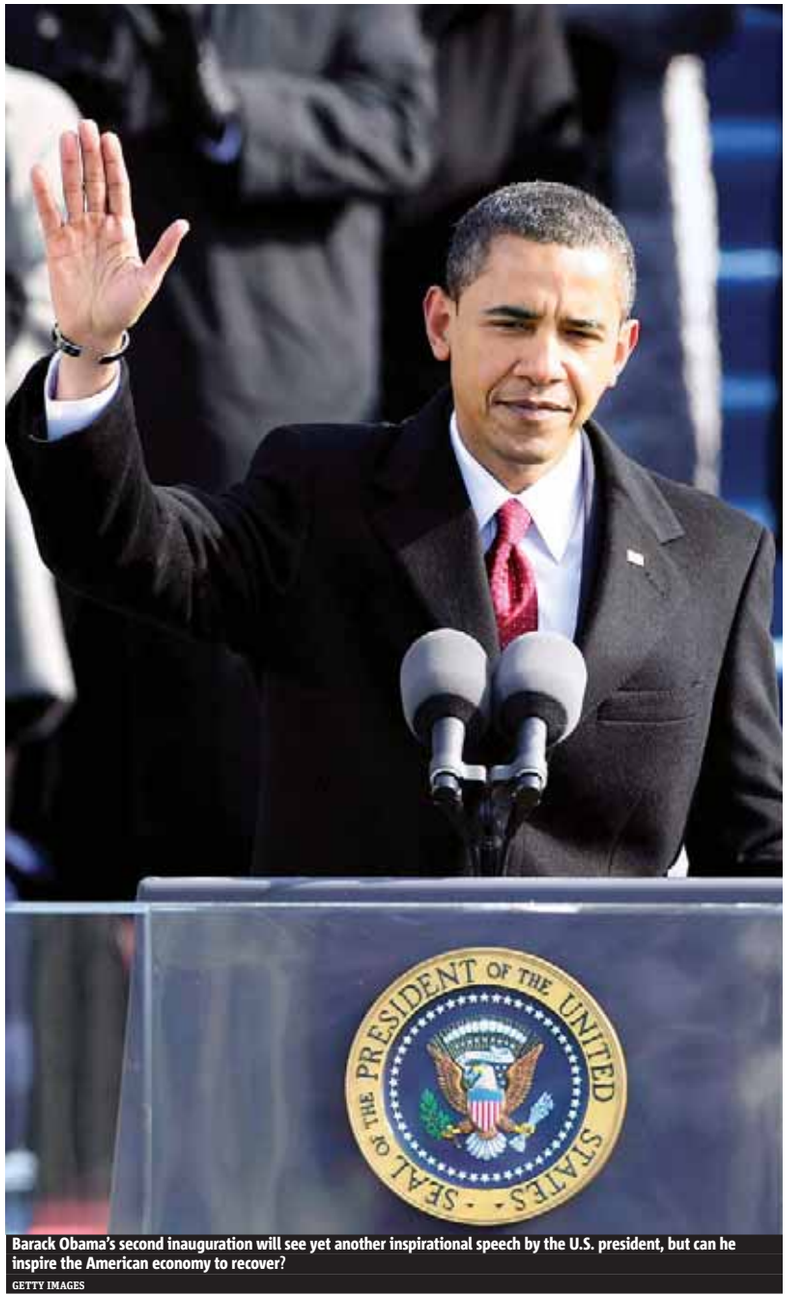
8 people to watch in 2013

Kate and William

With a baby on its way in the summer, the Royal couple will dominate the news throughout the winter and spring. Indeed, since celebrity babies are manna from heaven for the media, they'll dominate the news throughout the year. And they'll singlehandedly keep tabloids afloat, not to mention the bookmakers, who are already reporting a betting frenzy on the baby's name. Top odds so far are for Mary, Elizabeth, Victoria, John and George.

13 EVENTS



Barack Obama's second inauguration will see yet another inspirational speech by the U.S. president, but can he inspire the American economy to recover?

GETTY IMAGES

Vladimir Putin

Never one to stay out of the public eye, the Russian president has surprised the public by not staging any recent photo shoots. Is he suffering from serious illness, or, having recently fired two government ministers, is he simply busy cleaning up the country's corruption?

Lady Gaga

In 2012, long periods of time went by without any news from the often-controversial international pop sensation. If it continues like this, she'll soon lose her crown as the most followed on Twitter to fellow pop star Rihanna. Stay tuned for more outrageous dresses.

Arthur Mutambara

The new Mugabe? In March Zimbabwe holds parliamentary elections, and if they're free and fair, voters are likely to boot out veteran leader Robert Mugabe. People may turn to Mutambara and his party, the Movement for Democratic Change–Mutambara Faction.

Peer Steinbrück

German Chancellor Angela Merkel needs an opponent in the parliamentary election, so the Social Democrats have recruited veteran government minister Steinbrück. And, given that Merkel's coalition is down in the polls, Steinbrück could become Germany's next chancellor.

David Beckham

The soccer veteran is leaving the L.A. Galaxy, but where will he go next? Rumour has it that Beckham is headed for France, which would certainly be the best option for wife Victoria's growing fashion business. Alternatively, he could become a full-time underwear model, or even an actor.

Rupert Murdoch

The "Dirty Digger" has had a rough time as of late. Britain's hacking scandal forced him to publicly apologize and close his News of the World tabloid, and now he has closed his tablet newspaper, The Daily. But the 81-year-old is used to punching back.

FORECAST FOR 2013

Jan. 10: Tube turns 150

The world's oldest underground rapid-transit system turns 150. On this day in 1863, London's Metropolitan Railway opened its first line, operated by steam trains. Since then, the Tube has transported billions of passengers. Transport for London will celebrate the anniversary by running a special steam service. A restored steam engine from 1898 will pull old carriages, and the service will run along the original route of Paddington to Farringdon with around 300 passengers.

Jan. 21: Four more years

Barack Obama is sworn in for a second (and final) term as president of the United States. Inauguration Day begins with a church service, after which the president and his family travel to Capitol Hill, where the chief justice of the Supreme Court will administer the oath. Obama will then deliver his inaugural address.

Feb. 10: Year of the Snake

The Chinese New Year begins the Year of the Snake. According to Chinese astrology, people born in the Year of the Snake are very wise and can become theologians or smart bankers. They also have good taste in food and fashion but are not frivolous. Sounds like a good year to have babies.

Feb. 17: Vote in Ecuador

Ecuadoreans go to the polls in presidential elections. President Rafael Correa, a socialist in the same vein as Hugo Chavez who is popular among the country's poor, is expected to win. But should he lose, WikiLeaks founder Julian Assange, who is hiding from justice at the Ecuador Embassy in London, will face problems.

March 20: UN says be happy

The first-ever International Happiness Day, sponsored by the UN, is the latest move towards establishing happiness as a key factor in comparing nations. A number of countries now have an official National Happiness Index. The smiley emoticon, meanwhile, celebrated its 30th birthday this past September.

March 21: Anniversary of Alcatraz shutdown

Fifty years ago, Alcatraz was closed. The world's most famous prison housed America's most infamous prisoners, including Al Capone. Thirty-six escape attempts were made from the prison island, but none are known to have succeeded.

June 14: Open race in Iran election

Iran holds presidential elections. Firebrand Mahmoud Ahmadinejad has served two terms as president and is ineligible to run again, so the race is wide open, with analysts reading the tea leaves to see which candidate Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei will support. The outcome of the election will be closely watched by the world as Iran is currently on a confrontation course with the international community over its nuclear program.

The German election will pit Angela Merkel against ex-finance minister Peer Steinbrück. GETTY IMAGES

June 29: Ready, steady, cycle

The Tour de France begins today, dramatically scrubbed of the memory of Lance Armstrong, who's been stripped of his seven Tour wins over doping allegations. Bradley Wiggins, the Brit who won the race in 2012 and the 2012 Olympic gold in the road time trial, has turned down the chance to defend his title, agreeing instead to support his teammate Chris Froome's bid for glory.

July 1: EU welcomes Croatia

Croatia becomes the 28th member of the European Union. Its neighbour and one-and-off foe, Serbia, is still negotiating membership. And Turkey will make a renewed push for EU membership starting on this date, when Lithuania takes over the rotating EU presidency.

September: Merkel faces vote

Another victory for the Iron Chancellor? Germany goes to the polls in parliamentary elections. While Angela Merkel remains popular in terms of personality, her coalition government may not survive the election, as the Liberal Democrats, the junior partners, are languishing at four per cent of the vote in polls. Merkel party gets 36 per cent, compared to 30 for the Social Democrats. The Pirate Party is also running, as are the Greens.

Sept. 7: Best sailors take to the sea

The America's Cup begins in San Francisco. Five teams from as many countries (United States, Sweden, Italy, South Korea and New Zealand) will compete for the trophy. Oracle Team USA won the race in 2012.

Nov. 14: Charles turns 65

Even though he's now hit retirement age, Prince Charles may have to wait for yet some time to become king. At age 86 his mother, Queen Elizabeth II, remains in good health. The Queen's mother lived to be 101 years old.

Nov. 22: JFK remembered

The 50th anniversary of the assassination of former U.S. president John F. Kennedy. JFK, who was killed by gunshots while visiting Dallas. Lee Harvey Oswald, an American who had moved to the Soviet Union, was arrested, but he was then killed by nightclub operator Jack Ruby before he could stand trial. Mystery still surrounds JFK's murder. The anniversary will be commemorated in Dallas.

5 Theories on where the TTC is heading in 2013

Whether it's the service, indecisive expansion plans or the latest Ford-related incident, the TTC is always a hot topic for Torontonians who rely on its service day-in, day-out. With the new year creeping up, Metro talked to some public figures to get their thoughts on the future.

PHOEBE HO
toronto@metronews.ca

1 Karen Stintz, TTC chair

"I think we're moving in the right direction for sure. We have set a vision and a mission for the TTC, and goals around customer service, and being a transit system that makes Toronto proud. So there's a lot of things we're doing and we're certainly on the right path, but there's still work to do.... Just understanding what it needs to be — a customer-focused organization — (and) making sure that we are achieving our performance objectives with respect to minimizing delays and improving service."

2 Josh Matlow, Ward 22 councillor

"I hope that the TTC will have a reliable revenue tool to be able to move forward with building the downtown relief subway line and support the existing routes it has to improve transit for all Torontonians. And that once it decides on a plan, that it sticks with it and moves forward and doesn't reopen and reconsider and second-guess everything it does. I hope that it returns service to bus routes that have been cut over the past couple of years. Ultimately, I hope that next year the TTC is moving forward with building new transit, investing in the current routes it has, and regains the confidence of Toronto residents."

3 Charlotte Sullivan, actress

"The plans to have the train go directly to the airport, (that's) an amazing idea, and I think really any cosmopolitan city should have that. I know they had sort of planned to go build a system to Scarborough, and I don't know why that's happening. And then modernizing the token system, which is pretty inefficient."

4 James Cybulski, TSN 1050 radio host

"Hopefully not stuck in political mud is what I would first say. You know, it's so incredibly frustrating that the biggest problem I think in the City of Toronto or GTA is transit, and it's still being argued about to this day. That would be the first thing I would say. Commutes are too ridiculously long, and transit doesn't move fast enough. Streetcars just do not move fast enough in the city, and while I understand that trains cost substantially more, they move much faster. People that are fans of streetcars don't ride them.... People need to move in the city and hopefully there's a clear plan going forward to address that efficiency."

5 Tyrone (T-RexXx) Edwards, MuchMusic VJ

"I feel like by this time next year, as our city continues to grow and continues to try to keep up with the development, I feel like the TTC will do the same. There's obviously a whole bunch of different changes, and I feel like that'll reflect in the prices as well, which is fine."

WHAT IF MAYOR FORD WEREN'T ONE OF US?

URBAN COMPASS
Matt Elliott
toronto@metronews.ca

About halfway through his four-year term, Mayor Rob Ford has already delivered enough headline-grabbing gaffes to fill an entire political career. And all along the brash gravy fighter from Etobicoke has shown little interest in cleaning up his act. Now, as the mayor tiptoes along on the thinnest ice of his political career, we're faced with the oddly discomforting prospect of life without him.

Wanting to know exactly what's at sake in Ford's conflict-of-interest appeal, I consulted the crystal ball to find out what we would miss out on in the year to come if the big guy does in fact lose the big job.

- Returning to his plan to find "efficiencies" at the Toronto Public Library, Ford will provoke outrage from book lovers when he suggests replacing the system with a link to Wikipedia.
- Keeping true to the job he's most passionate about, Ford will anger councillors (who can't stand the bleacher seating) when he attempts to move city council meetings to the sidelines of the Don Bosco football field. The idea will be quickly scuttled after Karen Stintz starts questioning Coach Ford's on-field decisions.
- Attempting to put the nastiness of his legal case behind him, Ford will prompt further judicial challenges when he attempts to amend the definition of "conflict of interest" to read, "a thing that does not ever apply to Rob Ford."
- After a preview screening of the Toronto-shot remake of Robocop, Ford will excitedly send a memo to Police Chief Bill Blair, citing what he sees as a new strategy for cost savings at Toronto Police Services.
- As an attempted olive branch to the cycling community unhappy with the removal of the Jarvis Street bike lanes, Ford will inexplicably suggest installing speed bumps across existing lanes across the city. "I thought it would make bike riding way more exciting," he'll say, making a little wavy-hand motion.
- Mayoral brother Doug Ford will say something controversial about a topic. When asked to clarify his comments, he'll cast all blame on the Toronto Star.
- Desperate to deliver on the transit expansion he promised during his 2010 campaign, Ford will venture out to Scarborough late one night. Neighbours will be startled awake by the sound of the mayor attempting to operate a jackhammer while muttering about the importance of "subways, subways, subways."
- Toward the end of the year, as campaign season for election 2014 heats up, Ford supporters will pose a simple but important question: Sure, he regularly gets himself into hot water, but wouldn't things be really boring if someone else were mayor?

His definition is this

Ford will prompt further judicial challenges when he attempts to amend the definition of "conflict of interest" to read "a thing that does not ever apply to Rob Ford."

Metro asks: What's your prediction for 2013?

Lis McMillan, 21, Halifax

"It will probably be a lot like (2012). Cold in the winter. Warmer in the summer. Probably a couple superstorms."

Helen Litam, 23, Richmond, B.C.

"No more (MTV's) 16 and Pregnant people."

Katrina Lat, 20, London

"Walt Disney will be removed from his current cryogenically frozen state, and brought in to help direct Star Wars: Episode 7."

Ali Hancharyk, 27, Winnipeg

"2013 will see popular music deteriorate to the point of solely consisting of just beeping noises and laser sounds."

Lorissa Good, 37, Calgary

"Same-sex marriages will be allowed in more U.S. states once they realize how much money gay people spend on parties."

Kevin Kirouac, 43, Edmonton

"I predict a female black Prime Minister for the country. It would shock everybody." (Ed's note: shocking since there's no federal election in 2013.)

EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED

Metro asks two psychics to tell us what's coming up next year in entertainment, sports and politics. First up is Psychic Nikki, a Toronto-based clairvoyant who says she predicted Hurricane Sandy, Barack Obama's first presidential win and the Tom Cruise and Katie Holmes split. Below, Calgary-based clairvoyant Kim Dennis, a regular guest on TV and radio programs, gives her vision of the new year.

LISA WILTON
toronto@metronews.ca

PSYCHIC NIKKI SAYS

What's in store for some big-name celebrities and celebrity couples?
Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie will marry, and I see another child. But she has to watch her health.

Jennifer Aniston will have a child, or at least pregnancy and a marriage. But I also see another man besides (fiancé) Justin Theroux.

I see a marriage for Kim Kardashian.

Taylor Swift has to be careful around transportation. I see a handsome cowboy type around her, possibly business and romance combined.

(The Duke and Duchess of Cambridge) may have a set of twins in the future.

Jessica Biel and Justin Timberlake may have a kid, but their marriage is doomed in the future when one of them has a roving eye.

Justin Bieber will do more acting. There could be a sitcom. He has to be careful of fast cars or red ones.

Helen Hunt will be nominated for an Academy Award for The Surrogate and Keira Knightley for Anna Karenina. Meryl Streep may be nominated again. Daniel Day-Lewis will be nominated for Lincoln and Sir Anthony Hopkins could also receive an Oscar nomination.

How will the political landscape change in the next year?
Prime Minister Stephen Harper will work well with the American president, but there could be a crisis where he is tested. He also has to watch for danger.

(U.S.) President (Barack) Obama will try to turn the economy around, but it will be hard with all the natural disasters coming. He is in extreme danger during the next four years and he may not finish his term.

U.S. Vice-President Joe Biden has to watch health and danger also. He could be replaced, maybe by a woman.

It will take a long time for the economy to pick up because of natural disasters and potential terrorist attacks, and wars in the Middle East and Asia. But there could be a gold rush in Canada.

So, what are these natural disasters you speak of? Should vacationers avoid certain areas in the next year?
I see a lot of earthquake activity on the West Coast of the United States right up to British Columbia and Alaska. There will be earthquakes in the Middle East, China and Japan. Also Mexico, South America, New York City, Quebec, Virginia, Washington and Tennessee. I would try to avoid coastal areas.

What are your sports predictions?

I see a famous Formula One driver being killed in a fiery crash and I think there will be a sex scandal in the NHL.

Obama's reading

"He is in extreme danger during the next four years and he may not finish his term."

PSYCHIC KIM SAYS

KIM DENNIS/CONTRIBUTED

On Jennifer Aniston and Justin Theroux:
I think they'll probably get married. I think she's found the one. I think there might be twins.

On Taylor Swift:
The thing with Taylor Swift is she shouldn't be settling down with anyone right now.

She's supposed to be dating in her 20s. I think it's just people's perception that she's always heartbroken. She's taking her time finding love. I think she'll fall in love this year at least twice. I think she's right on track. She's doing what she's supposed to be doing.

On the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge:
It feels like it will be a girl with blond hair.

On Justin Bieber:
I think he'll be a legend like Donny Osmond. I think his success will continue to soar.

On politics:
I think Obama will do a great job during the next four years. After him, the next president will be another first. It won't be a woman, but maybe a Latino president. And I think he might be a Democrat.

Calgary Mayor Naheed Nenshi will get in again. He'll be mayor for a while.

Justin Trudeau will win Liberal leadership, but I don't see him becoming prime minister. I think Stephen Harper will get elected again.

Quebec won't separate. There will always be a group who wants to, but the province will stay in Canada.

Other predictions:
I think (Ugandan war criminal) Joseph Kony will be caught.

Something's going to rock the Catholic Church. I know they've had lots of controversy. But it might be something that brings it to its knees. I think somebody big, like a monsignor, will reveal something that will shake up the Catholic Church.

I think there will be a tsunami again just after Christmas. I see the South Pacific, maybe around Australia.

There will be some sort of marijuana legalization in the next two years.

LISA WILTON/FOR METRO

Burnin' down the house

"There will be some sort of marijuana legalization in the next two years. The government will do it quickly and quietly."

5 hot spots to watch in 2013

These countries make headlines around the world. They face civil unrest, displaced civilians, and even the possibility of nuclear war. Metro asked Matt Ferrell, a political-science professor at Fanshawe College in London, Ont., to help predict what the world's newsmakers might look like in 2013. Here is a brief look at some of the world's hot spots and the possibilities they might meet in 2013

ANDREW SERCOMBE
For Metro

Syria

What is the issue? Between 2.5 million and three million people have been displaced by civil conflict that erupted in March 2011.

Future best-case scenario: Current Syrian leadership steps down, allowing oppositional groups to coalesce and put together a functioning government.

Future worst-case scenario: Civil conflict continues and escalates. Russia and China, who support the leadership in Syria, stall international intervention and protect the current Syrian government.

Probable scenario: With the support of Russia and China, the Syrian government continues a war against oppositional groups, stalling the country's development and its aid to displaced citizens.

Iran

What is the issue? Iran's pursuit of nuclear weapons could provoke an attack from Israel.

Future best-case scenario: Diplomatic resolution.

Future worst-case scenario: Israel launches pre-emptive nuclear strike against Iran. The United States — Israel's main supporter — is forced to become involved.

Probable scenario: Iran's military continues to possess more political control than the country's government. Iran continues to pursue nuclear weapons despite an international push for more sanctions.

Libya

What is the issue? Militia groups are overrunning a dissolving central government.

Future best-case scenario: Civil society triumphs. The central government is able to reinstate its power, and the country is able to restore democracy in place of the extremist groups.

Future worst-case scenario: Factionalism persists and internal conflict between the many mini-governments fighting the central government destroys the country.

Probable scenario: Civil unrest continues as militia groups struggle for power with the central government.

Afghanistan

What is the issue? Security in the country is very poor. Afghanistan's government struggles to protect civilians from military conflict between American forces and the Taliban.

Future best-case scenario: The United States removes troops from Afghanistan by 2014, and the government is left stable and functioning.

Future worst-case scenario: Conflict continues between the Afghan military and Taliban. The government dissolves, and Pakistan enters the conflict, supporting the Taliban.

Probable scenario: The United States will withdraw in 2014. Afghanistan will be left a divided country. On paper the mission will appear a success, but in reality the country will still suffer from conflicting factions.

North Korea

What is the issue? Too much of the North Korean government's budget is invested in the military, rather than infrastructure development, leaving the country with a low domestic product.

Future best-case scenario: China acts as peacemaker between North Korea and South Korea.
North Korea installs more moderate leadership.

Future worst-case scenario: The conflict between North Korea and South Korea escalates, forcing international intervention.

Probable scenario: New North Korean leader Kim Jong Un continues the policies of the past.

The future of endangered species

With 2012 seeing the largest mass of summer ice melting in the Arctic in modern history, it's no surprise experts predict more of the same for 2013. The melting ice has implications for some of Canada's most threatened species. Metro spoke with World Wildlife Fund scientist and researcher Pete Ewin, who said global warming will continue to produce winners and losers

ELISHA DACEY
Metro in Winnipeg

The losers

Narwhal

Narwhals, called the "Unicorns of the Sea" due to their long, sharp tusks, need deep under-packed Arctic ice because it provides them shelter from predators. Less ice means less defence.

Polar bears

Polar bears are hugely dependent on sea ice for their food supply. Less ice means fewer chances of fattening up on ringed seals, their primary food, which keeps them nourished the rest of the year around. Ewing said polar bears will eventually be found only further north, and have been eating more seaweed and kelp in recent years to keep their bellies full.

Ringed seals

Warmer waters and less ice mean fewer resting places for the ringed seal. Ringed seals usually pup on large ice floes and spend most of their lives in contact with ice or icy waters. Smaller ice floes keep these solitary animals from spreading out like they're used to doing.

The winners

Killer whales

Considered a threatened species, killer whales are making a comeback in areas with warmer temperatures and warmer waters. Warmer waters in the north means killer whales will be found there with more frequency.

Other seals

The decline of the ringed seal will mean more food for other types of seal. Harp seals, which like colder waters but not ice, may move in, affecting the diet of other animals and the Inuit, many of whom rely on ringed seals for food.

Some salmon

Different species of salmon used to warmer waters will start to replace other species of salmon. This will also attract killer whales, whose primary food source is salmon.

Hey, lexicography geeks! May we have a word?

Social media speeds up word development. What new words might be added to the Oxford English Dictionary in '13?

JANE CAULFIELD
Metro in Saskatoon

Paul JJ Payack, the chief word analyst at the U.S.-based Global Language Monitor, which analyzes and tracks the latest trends in word usage, says social media has helped speed up new word development. FLICKR

What do derecho, obesogenic and hen all have in common? According to The Global Language Monitor (GLM), they are newly popular — or newly formed — words that may become part of the regular vernacular in 2013.

"As soon as a word is used by more than one person, it becomes part of the English language," said Yin Liu, associate professor at the University of Saskatchewan's College of Arts and Science.

An expert in the study of the English language, Liu said getting a word to become an "official" part of the English language isn't as clear-cut as simply adding it to a dictionary.

"Often a word has been in use years before it shows up in the printed version of the dictionary," said Liu.

According to Liu, for a word to be considered "official" it has to be traceable. For instance, the word "gridlock" can be traced to traffic workers in New York in the '80s.

Social media has sped up new word development at incredible rates, says Paul JJ Payack, president of GLM. As an example, he brings up the weatherman who online described hurricane Sandy as a "Frankenstrom," which was then repeated over 90 million times within a week.

"We estimate about 14.7 new words are created a day," said Payack.

Buzz words

The following words are gaining popularity and may become part of the regular vernacular in 2013. Before casually dropping them in party conversations, find out what they mean:

- Obesogenic — An environment that tends to encourage obesity. It has been gaining popularity when describing advertisements that sell sugary, high calorie snacks to kids.
- Derecho — Also known as a 'land hurricane' — a sudden storm with extremely strong one-directional winds
- Hen — The Swedish word aimed at creating a gender-neutral pronoun to replace him or her.

Talking tech predictions for 2013

Technology continues to evolve at a rapid pace and there are no signs it will slow down anytime soon. 2013 will usher in a new wave of products and consumer technology. Here are a few tech trends you can expect to see in the coming months

MIKE YAWNEY
For Metro

Fuel-cell chargers

Recharge your gadgets over and over again without plugging them into a wall socket. Forget oversized batteries used in most portable chargers, as fuel-cell chargers use water, or in some cases lighter fluid, to charge your favourite gadgets up to 14 times. Need more juice? Simply refill the charger with fluid to reset the charging process.

This new breed of charger is small enough to fit in a pocket and uses only small amounts of fluid so it is airplane friendly for passengers.

Cloud-based gaming

Play video games without shelling out big bucks for a high-end gaming console. Cloud-based games are run on remote servers and are streamed to your home. Since the servers do all the heavy lifting, you can run the games on virtually any device such as a television or tablet. You never have to worry about outdated hardware. Microsoft and Sony are both said to be looking at the technology for their new consoles, which are expected to be announced in 2013. In fact, Sony just purchased cloud-gaming company Gaikai. Coincidence?

3-D printing

Create custom jewelry, smartphone cases and even small toys in the comfort of your own home. 3-D printing technology has been around for a few years, but the equipment and supplies have been expensive. All signs now point towards a massive push to the consumer market in 2013. Download a template, press print, and wait while your project comes to life right in front of your eyes. If you're feeling really creative you can use software to design your own custom items. The possibilities are endless.

OLED TV

Each year television displays get thinner and thinner, but this could be the year they finally become paper-thin. Last year at the annual Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas, both LG and Samsung showed amazing OLED (organic light-emitting diode) panels. These stylized TVs were beautifully designed, boasted rich colour and were a mere 4 mm thick. Despite promises they would hit the market in 2012, it never happened. Rumours are the sets are now ready for North American households … at least for those who have deep pockets.

Ultra high-definition TV

Think your high-definition television has a beautiful picture? Just wait until you see what's around the corner. Manufacturers such as Sony are launching 4K TV, which puts current high-definition sets to shame. Imagine four times the resolution than your current HDTV. I've seen these new sets and I've got to say the picture is jaw-dropping, but so is the price. Is it too early to ask consumers to upgrade their television yet again?

WE MUST MOVE FORWARD, NOT BACKWARD; UPWARD, NOT FORWARD ...

HE SAYS...
John Mazerolle
metronews.ca

Journalism has come a long way since the days when we all wore hats that said "Press" and drank whiskey at our desk. Now we wear hats that say "Internet" and drink Jack and Coke Zero at our desk. We've come a long way, baby.

There have been many changes in the way we collect the news, too. There was a time when the public wanted — and the media delivered — complete, accurate information at the end of the working day, while the kids removed Dad's slippers and Mom made meatloaf.

But now Mom and Dad live apart and the kids are busy sexting, so to fill the gaping void in your life you fill the hole with news, news and more news, every minute, day and night.

Even stories like the Ikea monkey get updated as quickly as possible, because we in the media don't want to look like fools with an out-of-date story about a monkey in a coat.

We will be coming to you live from the Ikea parking lot, dammit, and if the monkey flings some feces, you will hear about it before it hits the ground. That's our solemn promise to you.

This speed has occasionally led to what some may call errors, such as when we kill off people who aren't dead yet. But the fact of the matter is those people will some day be dead. We've only been giving you a heads up. You're welcome.

With that in mind, I've noticed that some of my media colleagues have stuck to their tired old ways by writing a Year in Review. That is so 2012.

Instead, I bring you the 2013 Year in Advance. Here are the stories that will happen next year, before they've happened.

- Jan. 11: NASA scientists announce a major breakthrough when the Mars Curiosity rover finds itself. "I want to be a painter," the machine declares.
- Feb. 5: Inspired by seven-time Tour de France winner Lance Armstrong's example, Rolling Stones guitarist Keith Richards also denies drug use.
- April 9: According to a new report, the Harper government  in  the  transparency.
- May 15: Avril Lavigne throws Nickelback into disarray when she teaches fiancé and lead singer Chad Kroeger a new chord progression. Other band members say her "crazy ideas" are threatening to "Yoko Ono" the band's singular sound.
- Sept. 30: Meteorologists change the naming system for hurricanes to better reflect reality. Hurricane I Am a Direct Result of Global Warming causes major damage to the U.S. coastline, yet fails to breach the Republican consciousness.
- Oct. 9: Will and Kate Plus 8 debuts on the Royal Life Network, as monarchists devour the latest news from Georges I through VIII.
- Nov. 4: Mayor Rob Ford's new 700-page memoir, The Broken Republic: A Treatise on Debate and Democracy, from Plato to the Paris Convention, is hailed as a masterwork of the genre.
- Dec. 15: BREAKING NEWS — Ikea monkey has died, Twitter confirms. Oh, wait, he was only asleep. But sources say he will die eventually. You're welcome.

2013 will be the year that media outlets bring you the news before it happens — including round-the-clock coverage of the Ikea monkey.

Geoengineering

Scientific solution to global warming

A record loss of Arctic sea ice and faster-than-expected melting of Greenland's ice cap made worldwide headlines in 2012, but research published in major science journals suggests warming in the North doesn't have to continue from 2013 on.

Scientists theorize that injecting reflective particles of some kind into the high atmosphere could reduce the amount of sunlight reaching the Earth's surface and compensate for the greenhouse effect.

THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ethical question

"The really hard questions here aren't mostly technical. They're questions about what kind of planet we want and who we are."

David Keith, a Calgarian and professor of applied physics at Harvard University.
Keith said any significant nation in the world has the technological capacity to facilitate a drop in the Earth's temperature.

Save it for an emergency

Cooling the Earth could be a bad idea

In a world that seems unable to come to grips with carbon-dioxide emissions driving climate change, manipulating the Earth's climate to cool it down has some calling geoengineering a bad idea.

The professor behind the idea, David Keith, believes emissions should be cut, and he doesn't advocate such a plan, at least not yet.

He suggested geoengineering may be a viable response to a "climate emergency" — a sudden collapse of ice sheets or a killing drought. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Debate heats up

- The UN has ruled out geoengineering.
- Peter Mooney of the Ottawa-based Etc Group, an environmental technology watchdog, is skeptical of anyone's ability to manage geoengineering.
- "The governments who screwed up in the first place can't be expected to take something like planetary systems management and do a better job of it," he said.

ebooks

2013 is no time to toss the cookbook in the trash

While ebooks have been exploding in popularity in recent years, scholars, chefs and those who just love to tool around in the kitchen say it's not time to stick a fork in the physical cookbook just yet.

Trend watcher Christine Couvelier, who recently passed the 3,000 mark in her cookbook collection, thinks the print format isn't going anywhere, though she also enjoys such innovations as the video clips used with recipes, and stories in publications like Martha Stewart Living that she reads on her iPad.

"There's something about experiencing a cookbook the way the author designed it so the right format is there," said the Victoria-based chef, who noted that some ereaders reformat cookbooks.

Paywalls

Newspapers go back to the future

Whether they're lauded as the future of online media or labelled a scourge on the flow of digital information, opinions abound on the rise of paywalls in Canada, and the conversation is only going to get louder. One frequently cited example of such success is the New York Times, but observers caution that the paper is an "elite" product.

Some Postmedia papers — including the Montreal Gazette, the Ottawa Citizen and the Vancouver Sun — have been experimenting with paywalls this year. The company plans to put the rest of its newspapers behind a paywall in early 2013.

The Globe and Mail launched its much-anticipated paywall recently, and the Toronto Star, which boasts the highest circulation in Canada, will also be watching the evolution of its audience very closely once it puts up a paywall in 2013.

From aggressive women to quiet men to androgynous rappers, the new year looks promising

PAT HEALY/EVE HYMAN/CHRIS LEO PALERMINO
Metro World News

5 Bands to listen to in 2013

Savages

One of the biggest buzzes out of this year's CMJ Music Marathon in New York City was Savages, four London women whose punctuated attack on every song is every bit as vicious and thrilling as their name implies. Gemma Thompson plays guitar like she's the runaway teenage daughter of The Edge. Yes, she learned a lot from her old man, but she's still rebelling against him with the way she draws abrasive and occasionally atonal sounds out of the instrument. It's not easy to make out the subject matter coming from singer Jehnny Beth, but it's unmistakably angry, as she flails about like every convulsion is choreographed to the beats of drummer Fay Milton, who just wails on her kit. Holding down all the chaos is bassist Ayse Hassan. The sound is post-punk (sounding like a cross between Joy Division and the aforementioned early U2 thing). They've officially released a single and a live EP, but expect an LP in the first part of 2013. PAT HEALY

Mykki Blanco

Mykki Blanco, the alter ego of Michael Quattlebaum Jr., mixes a helping of tribal beats with her radical rap. The solo artist follows in the nontraditional path of recent indie hip-hop a la Odd Future, successfully dipping into punk and electro while retaining individuality. Her profile is bound to go up in the early months of 2013 with the slow and steady reception of praise she is receiving from her November-released album, Cosmic Angel: The Illuminati Prince/ss.
CHRIS LEO PALERMINO

Night Beds

Winston Yellin has the sort of voice that could quiet a huge room. It's not necessarily the Fleet Foxes/My Morning Jacket airy style of delivery that's so effective as much as you can just tell that this is somebody who is saying something that he feels deeply, and there's really nothing much more contagious than that. If his song Even If We Try is any indication, his album, Country Sleep, which will be out on Dead Oceans in February, is going to be a stunner.
EVE HYMAN

Little Green Cars

The hook for this Irish band's recent single, The John Wayne, is "it's easy to fall in love." And with LGC's simple and authoritative harmonic songs, it really is easy. They can weave their voices together as beautifully as any esteemed practitioner of the traditional music of their homeland, but they combine it with a crushing angst and the joy of rocking out. The band are expected to deliver a full-length in the early part of the year.
PAT HEALY

Deap Vally

Considering the oversaturation of bleeps and bloops lately, Joan Jett-esque grrl rock duo Deap Vally are a welcome change. Skimpy, sequined outfits, long hair and heavy rockin' are the name of the game for these L.A. women who are already signed to Island Records and have recently been opening for Muse in Europe. Throw on your jean jacket and get down with Lindsey Troy's raspy vocals.

Celluloid Soothsayers

On the eve of the 21st century's Bar Mitzvah, we dissect three films that were set in 'future' 2013. Maybe it's the pall of unluckiness associated with the number 13 in Western culture, but dystopian scenarios were the consensus.

MIKE DOJC
scene@metronews.ca

Escape from L.A. (1996)

Snake Plissken, Kurt Russell as a monosyllabic scofflaw with an eye-patch and a permanent five-o'clock shadow, is charged with retrieving a doomsday device from Los Angeles, a city converted into a massive prison colony after a devastating earthquake separated it from mainland California. Prediction: John Carpenter imagines a fascist America where the constitution has been shredded. Smoking and red meat are verboten, all marriages must be approved by the department of health and wave goodbye to freedom of religion too. Reality: California's coffers have been savaged. Governor Jerry Brown came into office last year saddled with a crushing $28 billion budget gap, the weight of which threatens to turn the residents of this financially underwater state into debt slaves paying sky-high taxes. Verdict: While the San Fernando Valley may not be surfable, it is drowning in red ink.

District 13: Ultimatum (2009)

Damien and Leito are back for another parkour-fuelled adrenaline ride. This time they're defusing a civil war that is breaking out between the five gangs living in D13, the walled-in Parisian ghetto from the first flick. Prediction: Parkour will become de rigueur on the urban street, with gangbangers turning rues into their personal jungle gyms. Reality: Free-running spring-legged Frenchmen vaulting, climbing and freewheeling over everything in their path is a far less common sight on the streets of Paris than sad-eyed mimes or young lovers locked in the country's vaunted kissing style. Verdict: Sure, parkour may not be the new skateboarding, but you do see a lot more of the kinetic art form on network television.

The Postman (1997)

Kevin Costner, always a sucker for pretentious, lengthy epics à la Waterworld, couldn't resist starring as a post-apocalyptic superstar in this 177-minute snoozer. Prediction: Resuscitating a defunct postal service is key to bringing hope back to a bedraggled society. Reality: While all-out nuclear war doesn't appear to be on our doorstep, postal services the world over are certainly hurting as mail volume drops and the USPS is fathoming closing more offices and ending Saturday delivery service. Verdict: When it comes to forecasting the future, what we have here is a failure to deliver, but Tom Petty is good for a couple half-hearted yuks as a future version of himself.

An Iron Man, a Superman, a Vulcan and a Luhrmann. We can't wait until next year.

Metro World News

THE BIG MOVIES OF 2013

Star Trek: Into Darkness

JJ Abrams has been keeping us waiting four years for the followup to his fantastic reboot of the sci-fi juggernaut. But if it's anything like the first film, the wait will have been well worth it. And with Sherlock star Benedict Cumberbatch coming onboard in a highly speculated-upon villain role, odds are it will impress.

The World's End

Speaking of long waits, Edgar Wright is going to finally — finally! — release the last entry in his Cornetto Trilogy, after Shaun of the Dead and Hot Fuzz. The film follows pals played by Simon Pegg and Nick Frost as they relive a pub crawl that may or may not coincide with the apocalypse.

Don Jon's Addiction

After learning on the job from directors like Steven Spielberg, Christopher Nolan and Rian Johnson in 2012, Joseph Gordon-Levitt steps behind the camera himself for the first time with this modern-day take on Don Juan, co-starring Scarlett Johansson. Gordon-Levitt also stars and wrote the screenplay.

Elysium

District 9 auteur Neill Blomkamp brings some social commentary to the summer blockbuster with a big and loud action film about the haves and the have nots, immigration reform and environmental issues. In the film, the one per cent live on a pristine space station orbiting the ruined Earth. Matt Damon stars.

Warm Bodies

This romantic comedy — about an undead boy (Nicholas Hoult) who falls for a potential victim (Teresa Palmer), looks to have plenty of wit, charm and life to it. It's no Twilight.

Ender's Game

Science-fiction fans have been waiting a long, long time for a film adaptation of Orson Scott Card's tale of kids training to battle aliens in the near future, but the wait is (almost) over. The cast is stacked with the likes of Harrison Ford, Sir Ben Kingsley and Viola Davis, plus high-brow younger talent like Hailee Steinfeld (True Grit), Abigail Breslin (Little Miss Sunshine) and Asa Butterfield (Hugo) as Ender.

Man of Steel

There's a lot riding on Zack Snyder's attempt to reboot the Superman franchise seven years after Bryan Singer's droopy Superman Returns. If it succeeds, it will serve as the jumping-off point for the Justice League, DC Comics' attempt to steal some of that Avengers thunder from rival Marvel. But will new star Henry Cavill make an impression with audiences?

Kill Your Darlings

Daniel Radcliffe ventures the furthest he's gone yet from his Harry Potter roots in first-time director John Krokidas' true-life tale of the early days of the Beat Generation and the murder that nearly drove them apart. Radcliffe stars as poet Allen Ginsburg in his undergrad days at Columbia University.

EB GAMES

2013 is here and Julian Brass, founder of Canada's largest website for young professionals, has his Notable calls and predictions for trends young Canadian professionals will be creating and embracing in the year after the 'end of the world.'

NOTABLE NOW
Julian Brass, Founder of notable.ca, Canada's online source for young professionals

Selected spotlight

Over the last several years our lives have become seriously public. People know where I went last night, when I wore my favourite blazer last, and that I'm going to be in Vancouver next week. We're sick of our privacy not being, well, private, but we do enjoy the affirmation that people are listening, RT'ing, and "liking" our last post.
Notable call: We'll continue to share our latest, but we'll become increasingly selective on what that is.

Quality, culture, cocktails and cuisine

It wasn't a trend. The growing sales in premium spirits combined with the intrigue of the Mad Men era and the push toward locally sourced, premium ingredients has seriously refined the average young professional's palette and fashion-sense. Bottom line — this year we are all more cultured and so are our tastes.
Notable call: More refinement in young professional style, restaurant choice, and cocktail choices. Salud!

Wellness for the young professional

You or someone you know is doing yoga. You or someone you know is reading a self-help book. And, I would also be willing to put a few dollars on the fact that you or someone you know is more concerned with their diet this year than they were the last. We care more about being healthy, fit and happy than ever.
Notable call: Young professionals will find more time for themselves to enjoy the things they already love. Essentially, more me time.

Death of the blogger — rise of the 'influencer'

The number of bloggers blew up over the years, but blogging is a commitment that for many is tough to keep up. With so many ways to "subscribe" or "follow" the peeps you care to hear from, the fully-employed young professional is becoming increasingly influential and the scantily updated blogs are becoming less read.
Notable call: Less blog updates and bloggers, more individual personalities with social influence.

Marginalized sense of cool

What's in is not being in. Get it? Fitting in is way out of style. Being an individual — now that is notable. Nobody cares about keeping up with the Joneses anymore. We care about our individuality, our values, our unique style, and being our own "cool."
Notable call: We'll be seeing more individuality in how we set up our desks, fashion we wear, music we listen to and places we choose to socialize.

Travel more, stay less

Every day we see photos of our friends' and colleagues' last trip. We see the inexpensive travel opportunities everywhere. We hear the stories and sip the metaphoric margarita in Mexico or the awesome Australian adventures.
Notable call: More travel for less time. Young professionals will be boarding more flights and pulling out their passport more often, but each time they do, they'll be getting their vacay-fix for less time.

What can you expect for 2013?

♈ Aries
March 21 - April 20

The New Year has arrived and with it loads of responsibilities. Expect to be thrown into uncanny situations throughout 2013 that will unfold into valuable lessons, ones that will teach you more about yourself.

♉ Taurus
April 21 - May 21

Career will be a challenge for the start of 2013. With patience by mid 2013 you will not drive yourself up the wall hoping for that perfect job because you will realize you are already in it, or magically you will be placed into it.

♊ Gemini
May 22 - June 21

Romance and personal relationships will be a concern in the first quarter of 2013, but by Spring you experience a shift in the romance department and your focus will mainly be on friendship and family. One tip for 2013: Try not to take people too seriously. Especially those who take themselves way too seriously!

♋ Cancer
June 22 - July 23

Think more progressive and positive. You have the tendency to over think things way past the point of healthy pondering and at times that causes you to undertake unnecessary emotional torment caused by thought. In 2013 you can flip the script just by flipping your thought pattern.

♌ Leo
July 24 - Aug. 23

This entire year will be one of personal challenges for you. Don't fret, these will be positive challenges. You will be learning facts about your character, ones that you may not like so much. Nevertheless, this will cause you to practice new personality skills and by 2014 you will feel like a new person.

♍ Virgo
Aug. 24 - Sept. 23

In 2013 people will appreciate that you do not have to be told what needs to be done. You just get it done. You will be viewed as on-the-ball and that means Managers, supervisors, coworkers, friends and family, will flock to you for advice regarding a multitude of concerns.

♎ Libra
Sept. 24 - Oct. 23

Do not be discouraged when plans refuse to unfold according to your wishes, and especially in the love department. Expect fluctuations of high ups and low downs and you will not be disappointed when loved ones say one thing but do another. Just do your best to be your best and 2013 will be relatively cool.

♏ Scorpio
Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

Some people feel you can be harsh at times. Like the ol saying goes "it's a dirty job, but someone's gotta do it" and you do it well because you know how to keep it real. So in 2013 when you are packing a punch do not second guess or guilt trip yourself... You gotta do what ya gotta do!

♐ Sagittarius
Nov. 23 - Dec. 21

This will be a year of love, joy and peace for you. Of course there will be some bumpy roads during the ride, but nothing will be too much for you to handle. Winter brings love. Spring will offer joy in career. Summer brings peace. Fall will have you busy like a bee, but you will make loads of honey money.

♑ Capricorn
Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

In 2013 if anyone dares to impose havoc on you or anybody you care for they will feel your wrath. Your authoritative side will rise up in February and it will not ease up until early Fall. Nevertheless, your gentle side will be freely given to those who behave.

♒ Aquarius
Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

Listen to your heart. It will speak loud and clear all throughout 2013. Your gut instinct will be on point and if you ignore your intuition you will want to kick yourself. So to prevent unnecessary upset, pay attention to your inner voice and follow through on what it is saying. Your own advice will be the best advice.

♓ Pisces
Feb. 20 - March 20

Money will flow to you more regularly in 2013, but first you will have to develop a better relationship with dollars and coins by saving your cash and refusing to spend frivolously.

Actors to watch — they will be stars next year

Anthony Mackie
Where we've seen him: Defusing bombs in The Hurt Locker and betting on fighting robots in Real Steel.
Why he'll be big in 2013: He teams with Josh Brolin and Ryan Gosling in Gangster Squad. Then he's got Michael Bay's action comedy about murderous bodybuilders, Pain & Gain, alongside Mark Wahlberg and Dwayne Johnson.
Key quote: "He's turned into a hot-fudge sundae since I worked with him the last time," Mackie says of re-teaming with Half-Nelson co-star Gosling.

Rosie Huntington-Whiteley
Where we've seen her: Working the runway for Victoria's Secret, on the arm of Jason Statham, running from robots in Transformers: Dark of the Moon.
Why she'll be big in 2013: Hopefully we'll get to see her go toe-to-toe with Tom Hardy in Mad Max: Fury Road
Key quote: "All the actresses are taking everything over now, with all the modeling endorsements and magazine covers," Huntington-Whiteley says of her old business.

Dane DeHaan
Where we've seen him: Using his superpowers for evil in Chronicle and making moonshine with Shia LaBeouf in Lawless.
Why he'll be big in 2013: He steals scenes from Daniel Radcliffe in Kill Your Darlings and from Ryan Gosling in the Place Beyond the Pines, and he's just been tapped to play Harry Osborne in the next Amazing Spider-Man.
Key quote: "I don't know that I do spend a lot of time preparing myself for stardom," DeHaan says. "When someone comes up to me and tells me they really like me, I just say 'Thank you.'"

Teresa Palmer
Where we've seen her: As a gun-toting alien refugee in I Am Number Four.
Why she'll be big in 2013: The actress finds herself the object of a zombie's affections in Warm Bodies, out in early 2013, and later she shares the screen with Christian Bale and Natalie Portman in Terrence Malick's Knight of Cups.
Key quote: "You never know when the next up-and-comers will be in the spotlight so people forget you. There's no guarantees," says Palmer, keeping lists like these in perspective.

Nicholas Hoult
Where we've seen him: As an awkward tween in About a Boy, a conniving teen in Skins, flirting with Colin Firth in A Single Man and donning blue fur in X-Men: First Class.
Why he'll be big in 2013: He's headlining both Warm Bodies and Bryan Singer's massive Jack the Giant Slayer. Plus Singer says that Hoult will definitely be back as Beast for X-Men: Days of Future Past.
Key quote: "He has absolutely no idea how good-looking he is," girlfriend Jennifer Lawrence says. MWN

5 Delicious food trends for 2013

Food trends don't come out of nowhere; they grow and evolve from years passed and embody the current thinking and influences of a culture. Like other artists, chefs get inspiration from the world around them, searching for new and tongue-tickling treasures. Fresh ideas, ingredients and techniques are highlighted in culinary competitions like Bocuse D'or in France, which serves as inspiration to restaurants first and then trickle into the mainstream. The following year, we see grocery stores and retailers introducing these same flavours and trends to give us home cooks a chance to play along. Next year will see us continue on a healthy/wholesome kick.

BY THERESA ALBERT, MYFRIENDINFOOD.COM

Year of the whole beast ...

"Nose to tail" cooking has been around for a few years as chefs strut their peasant pleasures and use up every bone and organ an animal can offer. Now, the idea has come home to roost. Look for "whole beast" parties to surge. Head on, big meals like roast suckling pig, whole duck on a spit and a whole salmon in a big backyard smoker will treat you this summer.

Seaweed so good

Darwinian beings came from the sea and now we go back to it for taste and nutrients. Seaweed is a huge "new" (yet ancient) food. No longer just wrapped around sushi or as dulse from the east coast, expect to find it in crackers, breads, as a topping and a snack. Seaweed, after all, contains more minerals than any other food on the planet. Look for sushi nori to crop up in salads and other recipes, and flavoured seaweed to come to a potato chip aisle near you.

... and the veggies

As our global luck would have it, the opposite trend has taken hold as vegetarians, vegans and flexitarians take the reins. Veggies as a main dish won't be relegated to the sidebar. Look for kale, collards and other greens to be dressed for success with beans for the vegans and sausage or bacon for the rest to make a whole meal. It's a good thing too, because the numbers show that we still aren't eating nearly enough greens.

Off-the-rails taco fusions

Tacos are king but it isn't just the ground beef and chili powder variety that will make the grade anymore. Look for fusion flavours with Asian cabbage and Harrisa paste in a classic corn tortilla. The wilder the combo, the cooler it will be. Creative textures, shapes and sizes of the shells will morph too ... ice cream cone filled with pulled chicken with crème fraiche, anyone?

The tiniest taste

Mini-me is key. Everything small is big. Going further than the tapas trend, this one allows one mouthful of a pleasure to be enjoyed while leaving room for healthier fuel; baby burgers will incorporate herbs and greens, mini grilled cheese, mini corn dogs and super cute cubes of cake satisfy. Perhaps we have figured out that it doesn't have to be massive to hit the spot. (Here's hoping!)

Collards are killer if you know how to make them right. THERESA ALBERT

Collard greens with sausage

Collard greens are cheap and one of the most popular vegetables. What a combo!

Many, though, don't know how to cook them. In the Southern U.S. they simmer them low and slow. Brazilians sliver them into thin strips and do a quick sauté. Our method is somewhere in the middle to save you time and keep the leaves al dente.

This flexitarian meal can be completely vegan or sausaged to the nines to suit your group. Keep toppings separate and serve as a main course with a crusty loaf of bread and some nice hummus or sharp cheese.

1. Rinse greens and chop off stems. Discard. Roll leaves width wise in stacks of 4 or 5 leaves. Slice thinly across the leaf (chiffonade) to create ribbons that are about ¼ inch thick or less. Place into a large pot with a lid containing ¼ cup of water. Bring to a boil, then turn down to simmer over medium-high heat to cook down for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in butter, honey, salt and white pepper. Simmer further for 15 minutes.

2. Place toppings in bowls on the table and serve with warm bread.

3. Enjoy!

THERESA ALBERT

Ingredients

Serving Size: 8, prep time: 10 minutes

- 2 bunches collard greens — about 10 cups chopped
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 tbsp butter
- 1 tbsp honey
- 1 teaspoon salt (or less to taste)
- 1 teaspoon white pepper

Toppings

- 2 cups cooked breakfast sausage, cooked bacon or canned white beans that have been warmed

Sushi for dummies. Add salmon, chicken or pork for extra taste

Ingredients

Serves 4, prep time: 5 min

- 2 cups cooked short-grain rice (or any other leftover rice)
- 2-3 tbsp rice vinegar
- 1 tbsp soy sauce
- 1 cup sliced cucumber
- 1/2 cup carrot, grated or shaved
- 1/2 cup diced red pepper
- 2 sheets toasted nori, ripped or cut into pieces
- 1/2 avocado

1. Place rice on individual plates or bowls.

2. Season with vinegar and soy sauce — stir with a fork (so rice doesn't clump together).

3. Top with remaining ingredients.

Fed up fans to lock out NHL with boycott pledge

A view of an empty Rexall Place, home of the NHL's Edmonton Oilers. After months without hockey due to a lockout, will fans be back in the stands if the season returns in the new year? TIM SMITH/GETTY IMAGES FILE

Fan tweets

Will you tune in to hockey if the NHL returns in the new year?

@taboada93:
I don't think so it's so sad with how they're handling the NHL lockout. It's dragging on badly

@xonor8:
NO NO NO

@dhfromkw:
Yes, good things are worth waiting for. MTS Centre is always electric. Love being part of it.

@AlanSimpson:
No. What goodwill that was built by the return of the Jets is gone. Again.

@Primlar:
I plan to avoid as many @NHL games as are locked out, once a deal is reached. They lose this season, I'll skip 2013-14.

@dkwesty:
NO!!! going to stay with WHL And Sylvan Lake Admirals etc.

Just Drop It. Campaign calls for hockey supporters to drop everything related to the sport after Dec. 21

PHYLICIA TORREVILLAS
Metro in Vancouver

Steve Chase and his friends pledge to boycott one NHL game for every game cancelled after Dec. 21 and they're sticking by it.

The 55-year-old commercial director, a Montrealer who lives in Los Angeles, started a grassroots campaign called Just Drop It that encourages fans to drop everything hockey-related — no merchandise, no TV, no game tickets.

"We don't want to destroy our game," he told Metro. "We just want them to pay attention to us.… We decided a fair thing would be to just make it one for one. If you cancel a game, we cancel a game."

Chase created a video that has been viewed a total of 100,000 times on YouTube and Vimeo, as well as a Facebook page, which already has more than 19,000 likes.

"Our goal was to be heard," he said. "We're knocking on the door of that meeting saying, 'Guys, we're the people paying you. We're a little annoyed that you're disregarding and disrespecting us.'"

Chase said he hopes fans will live up to the pledge's challenge.

"I hope people stick to it because we need to send a little bit of a message: 'Guys, don't do this again,'" he added.

But Dr. Joti Samra, host and psychologist on the Oprah Winfrey Network's Million Dollar Neighbourhood, said that fans may be upset now about the contract negotiations, but they're not going to be able to resist the temptation.

"When it comes to sport we're pretty forgiving fans, whether our team is playing or not, whether they win or not," she said.

"It's frustrating now because for a lot of people the big part of their social activities revolve around sports, especially this time of year when the days are shorter, and people are inside more … but fans are fans. They will support the team at the end of the day no matter what."

Quoted

"They will support the team at the end of the day no matter what."

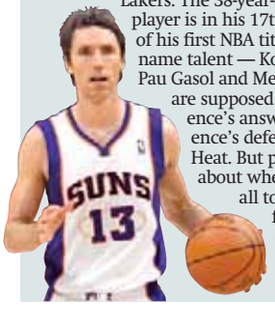
Hot Canadian athletes to watch

PHILIP CROUCHER AND MATTHEW WUEST
Metro in Halifax

Steve Nash

By the time the NBA playoffs roll around, the spotlight will be squarely on Vancouver's Steve Nash and the Los Angeles Lakers. The 38-year-old two-time most valuable player is in his 17th season and is still in search of his first NBA title. On a team loaded with big-name talent — Kobe Bryant, Dwight Howard, Pau Gasol and Metta World Peace — the Lakers are supposed to be the Western Conference's answer to the Eastern Conference's defending champions, the Miami Heat. But plenty of questions remain about whether the Lakers can put it all together as Nash strives to finish his illustrious career a champion.



CHRISTIAN PETERSEN/GETTY IMAGES

Georges St-Pierre

JEFF ZELEVANSKY/GETTY IMAGES

It will without question be the biggest fight in MMA history. Montreal's Georges St-Pierre is expected to square off against UFC middleweight champion Anderson Silva sometime in 2013 in what is being dubbed simply the "super fight." St-Pierre and Silva are considered the best pound-for-pound fighters in MMA, and the showdown should finally put to rest the question of who is the best. St-Pierre goes into 2013 on a high after winning a blood-filled five-round decision over Carlos (Natural Born Killer) Condit in November to unify the welterweight title. He also showed he has lots left in the tank after missing 18 months due to knee surgery.

Milos Raonic

With almost $1.2 million in prize money and two tournament victories, 2012 was certainly kind to Toronto's Milos Raonic. But with success comes higher expectations and Canadian tennis fans from coast-to-coast will be looking for this 21-year-old power server to elevate his game even further in 2013. Fans will be watching closely at the four majors too, where Raonic went 8-4 this year. His best finish came at the U.S. Open where he made it to the quarter-finals before dropping a straight-sets decision to Andy Murray.

CLIVE BRUNSKILL/GETTY IMAGES FOR ATP WORLD TOUR

Nathan MacKinnon

The electrifying forward from Cole Harbour, N.S., has been the front-runner to be selected No. 1 overall in the NHL draft for more than a year now. MacKinnon, 17, raises fans of the Halifax Mooseheads out of their seats with his high-octane speed and ability to score goals in bunches. He hails from the same hometown as Sidney Crosby — generating comparisons between the two despite significantly different styles of play — and is facing plenty of competition from Portland Winterhawks defenceman Seth Jones, among others. The battle could go right down to the wire on the draft stage at Prudential Center in Newark, N.J., on June 28.

METRO IN HALIFAX

Graham DeLaet

Graham DeLaet isn't a household name to most Canadian golf fans but 2013 could be the year he becomes one. The Weyburn, Sask., native is coming off a solid season on the PGA Tour. DeLaet played in 23 tour events in 2012, made 17 cuts, finished in the top five twice and earned a cool $1.05 million. His best finish was a tie for fourth in the Zurich Classic of New Orleans, and in the FedEx Cup playoffs DeLaet made it to the third round. All that's really left is his first PGA tour victory, which many think could happen in 2013.
